

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express my strong support for Dr. Wang Jiayu's application for the Young Investigator Award at the TTS 2024 Scientific Congress. As the Director of the Third Clinical Medical College at Capital Medical University, I have had the privilege of observing Dr. Wang's profound dedication and scholarly commitment in the field of Molecular Biology.

Since joining our program, Dr. Wang has demonstrated exceptional aptitude and enthusiasm for research. His academic prowess is evident from his impressive achievement of having published three articles in SCI-indexed journals, which is a testament to his research capability and innovative approach in tackling complex biological problems.

Dr. Wang's work, which focuses on cutting-edge molecular techniques, has potential implications for the advancement of medical science and could contribute significantly to the field. His proactive attitude and relentless pursuit of knowledge make him an ideal candidate for the Young Investigator Award.

In addition to his academic qualifications, Dr. Wang has shown excellent communication skills and leadership qualities, actively participating in various seminars and workshops, where he effectively presents his research findings to peers and senior scientists.

It is without hesitation that I recommend Dr. Wang Jiayu for this prestigious award, confident that he will continue to exhibit the same vigor and excellence in his future endeavors. Please feel free to contact me at [010-13717963730] should you require any further information or clarification.

Sincerely,

Xiaopeng Hu
